

The included output cups replace the output shafts in your E-Revo VXL differentials. You will have to disassemble the differentials and remove the output stock shafts (shown highlighted below) and replace them with our output cups.

